

A Referral is a letter from the Service Complaints Ombudsman for the Armed Forces (SCOAF) to your Service that says you want to make a Service Complaint. It will then be sent to the your relevant Service Central Admissibility Team.

SCOAF cannot make referrals about issues that happened before 2008.

A Referral:

$\bigcirc$	can be made for current or former Service personnel	$\bigotimes$	is not a formal Service Complaint
$\bigcirc$	places a legal obligation on the Service to find out the individual wants to make a formal complaint and get the process started	$\bigotimes$	can't be made about the same issue you have already submitted a formal complaint (in writing)
$\bigcirc$	requires the Ombudsman to be updated after key events	$\bigotimes$	is not the start of an investigation by the Ombudsman
		$\times$	does not mean the Ombudsman thinks that any complaint made following a referral should be upheld
			does not prevent informal resolution

A Service Complaint usually reeds to be made within 3 months of the date of the wrong being complained about. Submitting this application form, or a referral, does not "stop the clock" on this time limit. The only way to "stop the clock" is to submit a completed Annex F.

If you need further information, or assistance to complete this form please phone 0300 369 0689 or email contact@scoaf.org.uk.

We don't need all the details of what happened. The purpose of a referral is simply to help you to raise your issue with the right person in your Service.

On this form, we only need you to tell us the broad issue and when it happened. For example: 'I would like to make a complaint about my SJAR from October 2019'

Is your Commanding Officer (CO) implicated in your complaint? If so please, explain how.

This means: are you making a complaint about something your CO was directly involved in?

The Ombudsman does not decide who handles your complaint, but we can let the Service know if the CO might be implicated.
